

Weekly Assignment 32

1. Write a Python program to sort a List in ascending order, where List size is the user given input.
2. Write a Python program to sort a List in descending order, where List size is the user given input.
3. Write a Python program to insert new item at a specified index position, where List size is the user given input.
4. Write a Python program to delete item at a specified index position, where List size is the user given input.
5. Write a Python program to multiply all numbers in the List, where List size is the user given input.