

Weekly Assignment 31

1. Write a Python program to find out the summation of elements in a List, where List size is the user given input.
2. Write a Python program to find out the Maximum in a List without using built in function, where List size is the user given input.
3. Write a Python program to find out the Maximum in a List without using built in function, where List size is the user given input.
4. Write a Python program to reverse a List, where List size is the user given input.
5. Write a Python program to find the index of an element, where List size and element is the user given input.